

Vesna Janković

PhD candidate in Sociology at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences and Lecturer in Sociology at the Faculty of Mechanical Engineering and Naval Architecture, University of Zagreb. Founding member of Svarun (1986), Anti-War Campaign of Croatia (1991), Centre for Women War Victims (1993) and Autonomous Culture Factory — Attack (1997). Founding editor-in-chief of the Anti-War Campaign's magazine ARKzin. Member of the Croatian Sociological Society. Translated and edited Peace Pilgrim: Her Life and Work in Her Own Words (2003) into Croatian and co-edited Rat i ljudska prava [War and Human Rights] (1993), Žene oblikuju ekonomiju i politiku [Women Shaping Economy and Politics, published in both Croatian and English] (2002), Žene obnavljaju sjećanja [Women Recollecting Memories, published in both Croatian and English] (2003), Antiratna kampanja 1991.-2011.: Neispričana povijest [Antiwar Campaign 1991-2011: Untold History] (2011), as well as Resisting the Evil: [Post-]Yugoslav Anti-War Contention (2012).

Has published in the areas of cyberfeminism, qualitative methodology, sustainable development and the role of new communication and information technology in education and social action.